

Fair Company

The five rules of Fair Companies: They ...

- Do not fill full-time job positions with interns, volunteers, trainees or persons of similar status,
- Do not put off a college graduate with an internship if he or she applied for a full-time position,
- Do not bait interns with a vague prospect of a full-time position down the road,
- Offer practical training during the training period primarily for the purpose of job orientation,
- Pay interns adequate compensation.

